Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Black Ell: A War Play in One Act About nine o'clock on an August morning in 1916, Mr. and Mrs. Gould are having breakfast. They have been happily married some twenty-five years. Their income is about a thousand a year, and there is nothing to differentiate their dining-room - or their whole house, for that matter - from other dining-rooms and houses of the same class. Mr. Gould is reading a daily paper propped up against something on the table. Presently he drains his large coffee-cup and pushes it across to his wife. She re-fills it, carries it round to him, and returns to her place. The breakfast continues. He finishes the bacon and eggs on his plate. She has been watching, and asks him if he will have any more. She does that by a little noise - a little upward inflection of inquiry and affection. (The affection is unconscious and unobtrusive - the result of twenty-five years and about nine thousand breakfasts together.) The little noise catches his attention from his paper....

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
